City Investors Circle – London

Have published their Market Review for October 2020.

Topics include the prices of gold, silver, copper and nickel, and the factors influencing them. The declining price of oil is also features as it drops another 8% in a month despite the Opec + agreement.

Companies mentioned include Colonial Coal, Nouveau Monde Graphite, Zenyatta Graphene Solutions, Fosterville South, and Cabral Gold.

It’s interesting to note two graphite related companies were the biggest gainers on our watchlist this month. Graphite and graphene are starting to emerge from their slumber after being the ‘hot’ sector a few years ago. This is of course because after testing and development the first products should soon start to come to market.

It’s interesting that graphene is being added to some masks as it is thought it offers virucidal protection. This is obviously a huge potential market if the virus persists and the vaccines in the pipleline don’t resolve the problem in the near time.
