StoreDot attracted $20 million investment from BP

StoreDot

The Israel based innovative battery developer has recently attracted a $20 million investment from BP.

Their technology has already attracted a $10 million investment in a prior round from Chelsea FC owner Roman Abramovich.

StoreDot

The Israel based innovative battery developer has recently attracted a $20 million investment from BP.

Their technology has already attracted a $10 million investment in a prior round from Chelsea FC owner Roman Abramovich.

To read the full article, please click HERE