Comment

As an investor in mining companies, this is the sort of announcement I want to see.

Ascot are working with the local community, the Nisga'a First Nations, in a mutually beneficial way, and that should always happen.

I strongly believe mining companies have a duty to collaborate with, and benefit the local communities where they operate, and create a positive legacy that will survive the mining operation.

Ascot seem to have already achieved that, and set a fine example.
