

B.C Securities Commission imposes trading halts

During the last ten days the British Columbia Securities Commission has imposed trading halts on a long list of Venture stocks.

the list consisted of 66 stocks halted, and one wonders whether this is a sign they are finally tightening up?

comment

As an investor that has often despaired at the inaction of the BCSC, this is a welcome sign they may actually realise there is a problem, people aren't investing like they used to, and maybe finally they are going to take some action?

The BCSC have not exactly covered themselves in glory in my opinion, and their inactivity sometimes beggars belief.

is this just a bit of window dressing to give the impression they are actually going to take action, or is this the real thing?
