

Barkerville Gold in free fall

Barkerville Gold {TSX.V: BGM}

The stock is in free fall, and has lost around 25% in one month, yet no bad news has been released.

Investors are asking why the stock is falling so much on no news, and as of yet we have no answer from the company.

The stock is in free fall, and has lost around 25% in one month, yet no bad news has been released.

Investors are asking why the stock is falling so much on no news, and as of yet we have no answer from the company.

Whilst it is normal for gold stocks to fall during the summer doldrums, Barkerville is looking particularly weak, given the absence of any bad news.

We can only speculate as to why the price is falling so sharply, but the market always seems to know before the individual investor, so best to follow the money and look out for new funds flowing into BGM, IMO.