To subscribe to receive monthly including invitations to all our free to attend investor events, please email andrew@city-investors-circle.com, or enter your details in the subscription box on the homepage of this website.

Our events feature junior companies during their growth stage, when both potential risk and reward are higher, and before they appear on the radar of larger market participants.

Everyone is welcome to attend, and our events feature city professionals and private investors, affording a good opportunity to network, and maybe pick up the odd tip or two before the market catches on.
