Looming Zinc Supply Shortage Good News For Producers And Explorers

Stefan Ioannou of Haywood Securities is bullish for the price of zinc as a result of recent mine closures causing a supply deficit for the metal.

Ioannou predicts a recovery for the price of zinc faster than for other metals.

Zinc supply deficit looming, bullish for zinc miners.

The outlook for zinc appears bullish, says Stefan Ioannou of Haywood Securities, spearheaded by mine closures, dwindling production and the dearth of replacement projects.

This looming supply gap could mean increased zinc prices by the end of the year, explains Ioannou in this interview.

To read the full article, please click HERE