City Investors Circle Mining Review 13th October 2024

A quiet week for news of substance from our watchlist companies, as we find ourselves awaiting drill results from the summer season, as is usual at this time of year.

With high gold prices being maintained, the market expects some sparkling numbers from the producers starting soon as the next quarter's results are announced. With a fair wind this should propel producers' share prices higher, and hopefully focus investors' eyes back on the mining sector.

Capricorn Metals announced production was still on track for guidance after a recent weather event. The price has fallen back recently after the news, and despite the company confirming production will come in at the lower end of guidance.

Thesis Gold announced the completion of a drill program, and Cartier Resources mobilized a drill rig to commence one.
