Gold hit another new (nominal) all-time high during the week.

Aris Mining, Calibre Mining, and Westgold announced positive drill results.

City Investors Circle Mining Review 25th August 2024

Gold hit another new (nominal) all-time high during the week, and ended above the critical $2500 level after Jay Powell suggested strongly that US rate cuts are imminent, sending bullion and stocks upwards in anticipation.

Aris Mining, Calibre Mining, and Westgold announced positive drill results in a week devoid of any real exciting news. This is the drilling season of course so we expect more excitement in the autumn as summer drill results are released.

Westgold, which acquired Karora Resources a few weeks ago, announced their first set of drill results from Beta Hunt as a combined company, and they didn't disappoint.

American Creek, itself the subject of an acquisition, also announced drill results announced by JV partner Tudor Gold, at the Treaty Creek project in the Golden Triangle of British Columbia.
