Neometals {ASX: NMT}

The respected New York and London research house of Hallgarten has written a new research report on Neometals, and their JV partner, Critical Metals, focusing on their new project to remove vanadium pentoxide from slag in Sweden and Finland.

Hallgarten have also set a new price target for Neometals based on this new project, and the report may be read by clicking HERE

This project gives the partners the opportunity to become one of the biggest vanadium pentoxide producers in Europe, helping break the Chinese dominance of the supply chain for this important metal.
