Neometals intend to demerge their Mt. Edwards Nickel Project into a Newco

Neometals Ltd (ASX: NMT) (“Neometals” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce its intention to demerge its Mt Edwards Nickel Project (“Mt Edwards Project”) into a dedicated nickel exploration and development company to be called Widge Nickel Limited (“Widge Nickel”).

The Mt Edwards Project contains a material estimated Mineral Resource inventory of 162,000 tonnes of contained nickel across 11 deposits and, after careful consideration of the various strategic options available to realise value for Neometals shareholders, the Neometals board, subject to certain conditions, has approved the proposed demerger (“Demerger”).

HIGHLIGHTS

- Mt Edwards Nickel Project to be demerged into a new company, “Widgie Nickel Limited”. Post demerger, Widgie Nickel will seek to list on ASX;
- Eligible Neometals shareholders to receive new Widgie Nickel shares (at no cost) on a pro rata basis in proportion to their existing Neometals shareholding via a capital reduction and in-specie distribution, subject to Neometals shareholder approval among other things;
- Post demerger, Widgie Nickel shareholders will be entitled to participate in an entitlement offer to subscribe for additional Widgie Nickel shares;
- Post demerger and entitlement offer, Widgie Nickel will have dedicated resources and capital to realise Mt Edwards’ long-term latent value allowing Neometals to focus on its core ‘battery materials’ projects; and
- ASX listing of Widgie Nickel is expected to occur by Q4 in 2021, with further information to be released in the coming weeks.

Neometals management comments

“The demerger and return of our Mt Edwards asset offers existing Neometals shareholders the opportunity to realise the inherent long-term value of this exciting development story in a discrete, nickel focussed corporate vehicle.

“Widgie Nickel has a number of very exciting deposits located on the Widgiemooltha Dome, a world class nickel sulphide camp that has hosted more than seven historical nickel mines and hosts Australia's newest high-grade nickel mine being developed less than a kilometre from our southern tenure.

"These assets are highly deserving of their own time and attention, and the recent metallurgical results from just one of the deposits that revealed high grade palladium reporting to concentrate demonstrates just some of what can be achieved with a dedicated focus.

"Widgie Nickel is strongly leveraged to both the world economic recovery and the electrification of transport which will drive increasing product demand from both the traditional steel and lithium battery sectors.

"The Neometals Board considers it is the best outcome for shareholders that a new, independent entity is established to devote the technical, human and financial resources that the Mt Edwards Project deserves.

"We are excited by what Widgie Nickel can achieve with the assets. A capital reduction and in-specie distribution to Neometals shareholders will provide a direct level of participation in a new nickel-focussed business, while Neometals remains focused on the Lithium-ion Battery Recycling JV (Primobius GmbH), the Scandinavian Vanadium Recovery Project and the Barrambie Titanium Project."
