PDAC 2020

Two attendees of the show have tested positive for the Covid-19 virus.

This begs the question, should the show have been cancelled? I personally think it should have been cancelled, and surely the decision to go ahead was made on financial grounds rather than common sense?

The virus had already established its credentials as a killer, so why gather 23,000 people together in an enclosed space, with multiple crowded evening events when it was so risky?

One can only hope that everyone remains healthy in the long term.
