

Price of oil expected to remain low after production freeze talks fail

The price of oil has fallen back after the failure of talks to establish a freeze on production unsurprisingly failed.

The main problem is that Iran is being asked to agree a freeze at January levels, when theirs was low due to sanctions, whereas Saudi Arabia and Russia produced at record levels.