Smartcool Systems shareholders elect Qian to the board

Smartcool Systems {TSX.V: SSC} – At the annual general and special meeting of Smartcool Systems Inc. shareholders of the company elected Haiwen Qian, the company's executive vice-president, business development, as a new director of the company.

Smartcool holders elect Qian to board

2017-12-12 10:14 ET – News Release

Mr. Ted Konyi reports

SMARTCOOL ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT OF NEW DIRECTOR

At the annual general and special meeting of Smartcool Systems Inc. held on Dec. 8, 2017, shareholders of the company elected Haiwen Qian, the company's executive vice-president, business development, as a new director of the company. Ms. Qian replaces Brad Nightingale on the board of directors. Mr. Nightingale did not stand for re-election at the meeting and the company would like to thank him for his support and dedicated service as a director.

Ms. Qian holds a bachelor's degree in electronic engineering from Tianjin University of China. In more than 20 years of working with various business ventures in Canada, Ms. Qian has founded and operated successful business in manufacturing, educational training and international trading. Ms. Qian is an independent investor and business consultant and has also been involved in numerous business development projects for North American companies. Ms. Qian has extensive experience with assisting North American companies to become established and financed and to set up operations in China.

About Smartcool Systems Inc.

Smartcool provides cutting-edge energy efficient and energy cost-reduction solutions for businesses around the world. The ECO3 and ESM are Smartcool's unique retrofit technologies that reduce the energy consumption of compressors in air conditioning, refrigeration and heat pump systems by up to 40 per cent, giving a return on investment in as little as 12 months.