

Stinger Resources to Begin Trading on the 5th March

Stinger Resources (TSX.V: STNG)

Stinger Resources announced that it has now received approval from the TSX Venture Exchange and its shares will commence trading on Friday, March 5, 2021, under the symbol “STNG”. Stinger have three projects in the ‘Golden Triangle’ area of British Columbia.

Comment

Stinger Resources has been spun out of American Creek Resources, (TSX.V: AMK), to give value to some assets that were being ignored by the market.

I suspect this is also in case American Creek are bought out of their own projects, (which are highly prospective and they have a free carry to a production decision) as this protects their other properties, located near Stewart in the ‘Golden Triangle’ area of British Columbia, Canada.
