About the Cariboo gold project

The company is focused on developing its extensive mineral rights package located in the historical Cariboo mining district of central British Columbia. Its Cariboo gold project mineral tenures cover 1,950 square kilometres; along a strike length of 67 kilometres which includes several past-producing placer and hard-rock mines, making it one of the most well-endowed land packages in British Columbia. Since the management change in mid-2015, the company has unlocked the fundamental structural controls of gold mineralisation.

The company's brownfields exploration team is focused on upgrading and expanding the May, 2018, NI 43-101 resource within the eight kilometres of principal project area located near the town of Wells, B.C. The company's greenfields team is developing quality exploration assets throughout the remaining land package through systematic and scientific exploration. The operation's team is focused on completing required studies to permit underground mining on Cow and Island mountains.
