City Investors Circle Watchlist Stocks Top The Drill Charts Last Week

City Investors Circle – Stocks from our watchlists claimed the top three places in last week's drill charts in Canada, and the top place in Australia.

The charts list the best drill results from the past week in terms of width times grade.

On the ASX the best drill result as from New Murchison Gold, with a drill result of 18.81 gpt x 9 m for a result of 168 gram metres.

On the TSX Venture Exchange we had the top three best results, and in total we had six companies in the top ten results. The best result was from West Red Lake Gold Mines with a whopping 48.97 gpt X 18.7 metres for a total of 916 gram metres.

In second place was Heliostar, with an impressive 334 gram metres, and in third place was OMAI Gold Mines, with 261 gram metres.

In addition we had good drill results from G2 Goldfields in 6th place, Cabral Gold in 7th place, and Awale Resources in 10th place.

All in all an impressive set of results and validates some of the quality companies in our top tier watchlists.

City Investors Circle Watchlist Changes

After recent meetings with management of a variety of companies, we are making a few adjustments to our tier 3 and 4 watchlists.

Out go a few companies that are producing little in progress and newsflow, and in come a few closer to production and more active, with expectations of strong newsflow.

I like the determination of Australian exploration and development companies to get into early stage production, and I am adding two companies that are planning to initiate production soon, New Murchison Gold, and Challenger Gold.

Challenger Gold are based in Argentina, a country that is looking favourable for mining now that President Milei is making the country investable with his business focused policies to attract foreign investment.

Early stage production via toll milling is about to commence, with a large Argentinian shareholder owning the mill that will process the ore.

The Watchlist changes are listed below.

We are adding the following companies to our tier 3 watchlist

New Murchison Gold – Modest capex to bring into production in Murchison, WA.

Challenger Gold – Near term production via toll milling

We are adding the following companies to our tier 4 watchlist

1911 Gold Corporation – Fully permitted mill that has been run recently

Aldebaran Resources – One of the largest undeveloped copper deposits in the world

Scorpio Gold – Full funded for exploration in a prolific gold belt in Nevada

We are deleting the following companies from our tier 3 watchlist

Eloro Resources – Bolivian politics have become murky with Evo Morales once again involved.

Japan Gold – Seemingly good projects with premium partners, but little progress

Rumble Resources – Little progress

Westhaven Gold – Perennial explorer, raise and drill, very slow progress.

We are deleting the following companies from our tier 4 watchlist

BMG Resources

Siren Gold

The reason is the same for all the #secompanies, not making the progress I had hoped for when they were added to the watchlist. Financing at the lower end is tough of course.

Market Review March 2025

The City Investors Circle Market Review for March 2025 focuses on the record gold price and those watchlist companies whose share price is rising fast as a result.

The Tier 1 Watchlist of ten producing gold mining companies had ten risers and no fallers in March, as the record high gold price drove up their share prices.

The average gain of all ten stocks was 20%, with Catalyst Metals leading the charge gaining 40% during the month, followed by Orla Mining, and Ora Banda Mining.

The highlighted company is Gold Road Resources.

Comments were amade about Catalyst Metals, Capricorn Metals, and West Lake Gold Mines.

The main focus is on the price of gold and how finally the share prices of mining companies is responding to the higher profits being egenerated by the producers.

There was also a brief mention of PDAC 2025

City Investors Circle Watchlist additions

City Investors Circle

Following the review of our watchlists for 2025, which resulted in the deletion of a few non performing companies, we have added a few new companies which I have met recently, and I feel have a good chance of making positive progress next year.

These include G2 Goldfields, Astral Resources, Awale Resources, Exploits Discovery, and First Atlantic Nickel.

City Investors Circle Watchlist additions for 2025

City Investors Circle – London

Following the review of our watchlists for 2025, which resulted in the deletion of a few non performing companies, we have added a few new companies which I have met recently, and I feel have a good chance of making positive progress next year.

There are no guarantees of course, but I feel meeting the person running the company is important and a good first step in establishing trust.

I have attended conferences in London and Zurich, and in general was disappointed in the selection of companies available.

Many were early stage junior explorers, which is a difficult area of the market at the moment, and probably the reason they are out on the road using up precious funds in the hope they might meet people willing to invest in the next financing.

When you exclude those low market cap early stage exploration companies, the number of companies remaining to possibly meet is much reduced.

I then exclude those companies with projects in jurisdictions that are not tier 1, and the choice becomes very limited indeed. (I include the Ivory Coast and Ghana as tier 1).

The London conferences allow two way interaction between investors and companies on their meeting platforms, resulting in me receiving over 50 invites that I declined in each conference. They seem to employ a scatter gun approach.

The Swiss, as you would expect, do things better. There you simply send a list of the companies you wish to meet and they schedule it for you, perfectly.

During conferences I like to have no more than two meetings back to back, and then a gap for coffee, writing notes, comfort breaks etc.

The Swiss are good at scheduling this for me. I see no value in slogging around company after company making meetings in companies that aren't of any interest to me just for the sake of it. It's a waste of their time, and mine.

I am pleased to report that I found a few companies out of these conferences that I liked, and have decided to add to next year's watchlists.

These include Astral Resources, Awale Resources, Exploits Discovery, First Atlantic Nickel, and G2 Goldfields.

G2 Goldfields will be included in my tier 2 (advanced explorers), Astral and Awale will go into the (less advanced explorers) tier3, and Exploits Discovery and First Atlantic Nickel, because they're early stage, will be placed in tier 4. (Very early stage explorers).

I will introduce each company in turn, starting with G2 Goldfields on the 27th December.

Merry Christmas from City Investors Circle

Merry Christmas from City Investors Circle – London

We would like to wish all our readers a relaxing and peaceful Christmas, and a healthy, prosperous, and Happy New Year for 2025.

It's been an interesting year, with opportunities for investors in producing gold miners and selected exploration companies to increase portfolio value, with gold breaking records to an all time (nominal) high price.

We should remain positive moving into 2025.

Merry Christmas from City Investors Circle – London

We would like to wish all our readers a relaxing and peaceful Christmas, and a healthy, prosperous, and Happy New Year for 2025.

2024 was yet another challenging year, with market disinterest and political events worldwide combining to sell most junior mining stocks down to well oversold levels, and that has tested our nerve and resolve, but we are still here.

We should remain positive moving into 2025 as there is a growing feeling that things are starting to turn upwards for the oversold junior mining sector.

I would like to take the opportunity to thank all those that have read this website, our newsletters, and attended our events during the year, we appreciate your loyal support.

I would also like to thank those that have have worked with me, Bheng, Jacque, and Karla for their hard work in ensuring our events went well, and Bestow for her efficient work and admininstration of the website.

Going up or coming down?

City Investors Circle Watchlist Review 2024 – Company Deletions

City Investors Circle

It's the end of the year, and the time we review companies on our watchlists for performance, and whether they are achieving the objectives as previously stated.

One measure is obviously share price performance, but there's also the number, nature, and frequency of news releases.

Another deciding factor is if there are any changes in the safety of a Jurisdiction. Mali and Burkina Faso are good examples that have changed drastically for the worse during 2024. I personally would not invest in any company with a project in either of those countries now, likewise Bolivia, where the politics are starting to look very murky, as former president Evo Morales has reared his head again.

In the past year I have ruled out the following jurisdictions;

Bolivia, (politics), Burkina Faso (politics), Chile (unpredictable politics), Colombia (politics, new anti-mining policy), Mali (politics, demanding massive sums from companies producing in country, arresting employees), Panama (politics, anti-mining), and South Africa (Uncertain politics, power outages).

After reviewing their performance during 2024, we have deleted a number of companies from our watchlists, as follows;

Tier 1

Aris Mining (TSX: ARIS)

Colombia recently released a new mining law making it possible to stop a mine if it was mining in a national park or an area of outstanding beauty, even though that mine has a production permit.

That was enough for me, better to sell now before some politician becomes involved and wants to stop the mine. This has now happened! with Aris' new Soto North Project, where they are now trying to satisfy the government who have slapped a "Temporary Reserve Area" restriction on the property.

Interestingly I sold straight away and virtually caught the top, around C$6.30. The shares are now trading at C$5.35 and in freefall.

Ascot Resources (TSX: AOT)

Ascot simply disappointed once too often, and I have lost confidence in the company. Their first attempt at constructing the mine was halted when they claimed several key components were lost off a ship in a storm and replacements had to be made. This caused a loss of time, and they were forced by Sprott to finance.

The Premier Mine was then opened, and has now been placed on care and maintenance a few short months later due to a lack of feed. Another financing has been done and they are looking for more feed, but the share price has collapsed, and I sold out.

Calidus Resources (ASX: CAI) now delisted

Put into administration by management after failing to turn a profit despite the high gold price. Now purchased by Mark Creasy, an Australian mining magnate.

My first ever total loss on a share investment.

Tier 2

03 Mining (TSX.V: 0111)

Subject of an agreed takeover by Agnico Eagle in the New Year, subject to TSX approval, but both boards agree, so it looks a done deal, and makes sense given the proximity of Marben to Agnico's Canadian Malartic Mine.

Latrobe Magnesium (ASX: LMG)

Abysmal share price performance, down 58.6% in the last year.

Pilot plant still under construction, moving much slower than anticipated and behind schedule.

El Oro Resources (TSX: ELO)

Impressive large scale zinc, silver and lead resources, still expanding in all directions. located in central Bolivia.

The politics is changing for the worse here, former President Evo Morales is involved again, so I have sold my shares and I am deleting from the watchlist.

Tier 3

Japan Gold (TSX.V: JPG)

On paper this looks a great story, first foreign mover in Japan in recent times, 30 projects, partnered on some with Barrick Gold, on others with Newmont, what partners to have! They also have some unique projects for their own exploration.

So why are we dropping them?

Quite a boring stock, the share price has moved sideways for the last six months, despite the high gold price.

News releases are not prolific, and frankly I prefer companies with more news. Given they are involved in 30 projects across Japan, I imagined a greater frequency of news releases.

Westhaven (TSX.V: WHN)

A decent enough gold exploration project situated between Vancouver and Kelowna, divided by the highway.

Year to date share performance has been atrocious, down around 54%.

It's a typical junior explorer, release a few drill results and then go for a placing, and so on and so forth. This is a model that looks broken in my opinion, and the reason why the share price has fallen so far this year.

Even Eira Thomas as CEO could not help the share price.

So that wraps up the list of company deletions from our watchlists for 2024.

I have a couple of companies that I have met recently to review, and then I will be publishing a list of the new additions to our watchlists on the 27th December.

Mining Review 15th December 2024

The big news this week was that one of our companies, O3 Mining, has been acquired by Agnico Eagle in a friendly takeover.

Capricorn Metals, Orla Mining, and pacgold all released good exploration results.

City Investors Circle Mining Review 15th December 2024

Gold had a positive week, due to the US dollar falling slightly. Most industrial metals fell due to Chinese economic concerns.

The big news this week was that one of our companies, 03 Mining, has been acquired by Agnico Eagle in a friendly takeover.

This was hardly a surprise due to the proximity of 03's Marben project to the giant Canadian Malartic mine owned by Agnico Eagle.

Capricorn Metals, Orla Mining, and Pacgold all released good exploration results.

Mining Review 3rd March 2024

Orla Mining's newly acquired Pony Creek licence, which abuts their South Railroad project in Nevada.

City Investors Circle Mining Review Sunday 3rd March 2024

The week began quietly but ended with a bang as the price of gold soared 2.36% on US economic news, and the realisation that rate cuts are off the table for now and the FED is in a tight corner.

Sadly this came so late in the week that it didn't have too much of a positive effect on the producers' share prices. Hopefully that may change if this price holds or rises on Monday.

The price of Lithium and nickel is starting to rise and I wonder if these two have finally bottomed out? I will keep an eye on them for the next couple of weeks to make sure.

Orla Mining acquired Contact Gold, to increase the size of their South Railroad Project in Nevada. This looks like a smart deal in my opinion, expanding their project size and allowing them to use their financial strength to fund exploration far quicker than Contact could have done. Contact were a C$3 million company, financing would have been difficult to near to impossible in this market.

Wesdome Gold Mines produced the only drill results from our watchlist this week, and they pleased the market with high-grade mineralisation at the Falcon 311 Zone at Eagle River.

I remain convinced that the producers are the place to be, and with the rising price of gold to a new record high, they must surely begin to increase in value soon?

I sold a couple of my remaining explorers this week, and took the painful financial hit required in both cases, to make an initial investment in Capricorn Metals, and I also increased my holding in Calibre Mining to a more substantial level.

Both these companies are in production, but also constructing major growth projects through cashflow, a model I personally prefer. In both cases the new projects are already funded, scaleable, with serious exploration ongoing, funded from cashflow, not dilution.

Add in the fact they are both in tier 1 jurisdictions (Western Australia and Newfoundland respectively), and close to their new production coming online, I personally feel confident that as long as the gold price holds these look to have very good potential to create shareholder value.

I am careful not to place too much faith in any one investment having learnt that very painful lesson in the past.

Calibre are currently in production in Nicaragua, as well as having small production in Nevada, and they have nearly finished the construction of the new Valentine Mine in Newfoundland.

I sense they are trying to diversify their country risk as fast as they can in case the US further sanctions Nicaragua, and jeopardises their operations there, despite the fact they are doing very well with low cost production and multiple exploration successes.

As long as politics don't interfere, there's no reason why they cannot continue to reap the rewards of the low cost of mining and exploration in that country.

Rumours amongst Condor Gold shareholders that Calibre are looking to buy their project at La India are wide of the mark, according to my discussions with management.

I think they have enough on their plate at the moment and whilst they didn't totally rule out a deal, I sense it is not in their thoughts currently. maybe if the attempted sale of La India drags on and gold roofs it there may be a discussion to be had at some point, who knows?

In the meantime in my opinion it's just wishful think by Condor's shareholders desperate for a deal to be done to end their prolonged suffering.

City Investors Circle Tier 1 Watchlist Changes

City Investors Circle

As we approach the end of the year it is a good time to reassess our watchlist tiers, by moving achievers up, and non-achievers down into the tiers appropriate for their stage of production or development.

Coming into the top tier 1 include Galiano Gold (restored after overcoming problems at their Asanko Mine), Calibre Mining, and ASX listed Capricorn Metals.

Calibre Mining mine at night in Nicaragua

City Investors Circle

As we approach the end of the year it is a good time to reassess our watchlist tiers, by moving achievers up, and non-achievers down into the tiers appropriate for their stage of production or development.

Our new criteria for our tier 1 watchlist companies is; projects in Tier 1 Jurisdictions, in production or corporate action pending, experienced management, looking to increase resources by exploration or acquisition, and a reasonable life of mine.

Our new Tier 1 watchlist will consist of ten companies;

- Calibre Mining
- Calidus Resources
- Capricorn Metals
- Colonial Coal
- Galiano Gold
- Gold Road Resources
- Karora Resources
- Orla Mining
- Wesdome

Coming into the top tier 1 include Galiano Gold (restored after overcoming problems at their Asanko Mine), Calibre Mining, and ASX listed Capricorn Metals.

Leaving and falling down to the tier 2 include Minera Alamos, and Neometals, both of which have had challenging years, and they need to regroup and try and restore investor confidence.

Taking each company in alphabetical order,

Calibre Mining have three producing mines in Nicaragua, which is certainly not a tier 1 jurisdiction, but they have acquired Fiore Gold's Pan and Gold Rock mines in Nevada, and now, (subject to closure), the Marathon Gold Valentine mine in Newfoundland, currently under construction.

Once the Valentine mine is in production Calibre's main production will be in the US and Canada, and Nicaragua will be less important, but very useful low cost production to add to the bottom line.

Calidus Resources are in production at Warrawoona in Western Australia, and have just announced the acquisition of other satellite projects and a former producing mine, from Novo Resources, with the intention of increasing production by trucking and then blending ore at Warrawoona.

This looks like a game changer, as additional ounces will be produced without the need for further capex.

Capricorn Metals have a producing mine, the Karlawinda Gold Project, and also a development project at Mt. Gibson.

I like this type of set up, where production funds exploration and expansion, reducing dilution.

Colonial Coal are the only non gold company in the list, and are in fact an exploration and development company for coking coal. This is a commodity in high demand.

Colonial make the list because there is a lot of discussion amongst investors over a potential offer coming in to buy the company. I am a long term holder of the stock so am biased, but the jungle drums are beating, and David Austin, CEO, has been involved in successful takeovers before.

Galiano Gold run the Asanko Gold Mine in Ghana, a former British colony. They have overcome some production difficulties and have now acquired a further 45% of the project, bringing them to 90% with the Ghana Government holding 10%.

Galiano look in a really good place.

Gold Road Resources have a 50% JV with Gold Fields on the Gruyere producing gold mine in Western Australia. They have finished their hedge, are increasing production, and have an extensive exploration plan not only at the JV, but also on their wholly owned project nearby.

Gold Road have just hit A$2 per share for the first time in their history.

Karora Resources are a gold and nickel producer based south of Kalgoorlie in Western Australia.

Karora are currently adding to the resources, and low AISC are reduced by the nickel credit, despite that metal falling considerably during the last year.

Orla Mining have fallen back recently after the loss of their Panamanian copper / gold project, Cerro Quema, after the Panamanian government went rogue on mining.

In production at Camino Rojo in Mexico, low cost oxide gold, Orla have a development project, South Railroad in Nevada, acquired from Gold Standard Ventures at a steal, and was already their next mine, so Panama is mothballed and can wait for another day.

City investors Circle Market review – January 2023 has been published.

It features the three hot metals so far in 2023, plus comments on American Creek Resources, Karora Resources, and Orla Mining.

We also review all the nine companies in our top tier watchlist for 2023, and comment on their prospects moving forward.

We review the metal price movements for the first month of the New Year, and the three hot metals of the moment, as thermal coal and lithium, last year's highest gainers, are in retreat.

Gold up and some of Our Stocks are Lively

City Investors Circle

The first few days of the new year have started well for precious metals, with gold and silver up and trading strongly.

Some of our watchlist stocks have had a good first week, with i-80 Gold, Karora Resources, Minera Alamos, and Orla Mining all rising strongly.

City Investors Circle Watchlist Stocks Rising in the First Week of The New Year.

The first few days of the new year have started well for precious metals, with gold and silver up and trading strongly.

Gold is up around $48 this week to $1868 as these notes are being written, confounding the doomsters that predicted heavy falls for gold when interest rates rose. Gold is defying conventional wisdom, possibly due to recent central bank buying showing that in some countries it is still considered a safe store of value and protection against currency debasement.

And of course with no counterparty, no risk of confiscation either, think Russian assets being frozen outside Russia.

Some of our watchlist stocks have had a good first week, with i-80 Gold, Karora Resources, Minera Alamos, and Orla Mining all rising strongly.

These are, in my honest opinion, solid stocks, well financed, and the last three are all in production and benefitting from the higher gold price.

i-80 Gold recently reported some bonanza polymetallic grades at Ruby Deep, at Ruby Hill, which raised investor interest in the stock.

Karora Resources are recovering well from the selloff after they reported bad quarterly results due to covid hitting their workforce hard, and AISC rising out of control as a result. They are one to watch this year as they increase their nickel production to complement rising gold production in WA.

Minera Alamos is still to report commercial production, but the stock is rising, perhaps on the back of a director purchase earlier this week.

Orla Mining has had no news, but perhaps their purchase of Gold Standard ventures has deflected the fact that they have a copper gold asset in Panama, the scene of a battle between the government of that country and First Quantum, which is getting messy, although mining is continuing at their Cobre Mine, despite government orders to cease mining and close the mine, see here.

All handbags in my opinion, neither side can afford to lose the money the mine generates so a deal will be done, let's see who blinks first.

Not much exploration news this week but we are only just restarting after the Christmas and New Year break.

This cover the best and worst performances of mining stocks we follow, commodities, and crypto.

We suggest the best metals to follow in 2023.

City Investors Circle Annual Review

This cover the best and worst performances of mining stocks we follow, commodities, and crypto.

We list the mining stocks that rose during the year, and the ones that fell the most, and the reasons for those price actions.

The best performing stock was Argosy Minerals, up 69%, after starting lithium production at its mine in Salta, Argentina.

The worst was Cabral Gold, which got caught needing a financing during tax loss selling, and fell dramatically, losing over 60% in a couple of weeks, and having to quickly close the first tranche of the financing, presumably to prevent backward, after the shareprice fell below the placing price, and stayed there.

The surprise biggest riser in the commodities sector was Thermal coal, probably due to the Ukraine war requiring coal fired power stations in Europe to be reactivated to replace Russian gas.

It easily beat Lithium into second place, and nickel into a distant third.

We suggest the best metals to follow in 2023 in our opinion.
