Calidus Resources, Colonial Coal, and Lithium Power Intl. all made positive news this week.

We initiated coverage of Goldshore Resources, after a positive London presentation. I was impressed with the track record and experience of the management team, the project ins in a tier 1 jurisdiction in Canada, and they already have a resources of over 4 million ounces.

Companies on our watchlist that made news last week

Calidus resources disappointed me by raising A$23m to increase production, when as a producer one would have hoped with such a high gold price further dilution would not have been necessary.

Lithium Power Intl. updated the market re their Maricunga lithium brine proect, then the Chilean governement declared they were going to control the lithium industry in Chile, and restrict companies that want to operate there.

Colonial Coal responded to a new positive Broker Research Report from Tormont Media of the USA.

Mining Review 9th April 2023

Mining Review 9th April 2023

It was a generally quiet week leading up to the Easter weekend on the company news front, but we still managed a few snippets, companies reporting included Gold Road Resources, Maple Gold, and Silver Tiger Metals.

City Investors Circle Mining Review 9th April 2023

Gold, and silver in particular, had a very strong week, whereas the industrial metals had a poor one, as global economic slowdown fears resurfaced (did they ever really go away?).

Gold held above the $2,000 level as banking concerns rumble on.

Owning some physical metal outside of the banking system looks a very strong bet at the moment. What is happening is that investors are withdrawing money from regional US banks, which are of the size that the government will allow to fail and go under, and investing those funds in the 'too large to fail banks' that they believe the government can't, and won't, allow to fail.

This is of course becoming a self fulfilling prophecy, and the larger banks are returning some of these funds back to the smaller ones to help capitalise them and prevent them from failing!

The whole banking system looks to be a shaky house of cards built on shifting sand, and one wonders how long before something significant breaks?

China announced further gold purchases in March, 18 tons may not seem a lot but they also keep all they produce, and they are the world's biggest gold producer.

A Central Bank Digital Currency backed by gold is rumoured to be being planned by Russia and China, with the backing of the BRICS countries.

City Investors Circle Mining Review 2nd April 2023 Antofagasta PLC are to headline the forthcoming Global Mining Finance Conference in London on the 20th April. There is an interesting and diverse range of mining companies presenting from early stage explorers to significant producers that are still expanding by exploration. For full details, and to register for a complimentary delegate pass, click HERE

A poor week for companies we follow, with Argosy Minerals suffering from a falling lithium price and Cyprium Metals announcing the dreaded words “strategic review”. I’m pleased and relieved I sold Cyprium as a hedge against any financing issues, and I was only concerned about the price and what dilution might occur, rather than if it might happen.

The main issue of the week is about a company we don’t follow on this website, but I have followed personally since visiting the mine a few years ago, Scotgold.

I would like to see a revival of mining in the UK, and Scotgold, with their mine at Tyndrum in central Scotland was at the forefront.

Scotgold are in production although they have been struggling a bit financially, so decided to raise additional funds via a placing. In mid February they announced a £3 million placing at 40p per share, to directors, institutions, and a retail placing.

Fast forward to this week and a disastrous production update was released, and they announced they needed £500,000 fast after mining into some barren rock! The shareprice is now 15p!

The obvious questions are what has happened to the £3.5 million raised just six weeks ago? And when did the company know they had found a barren area in the mine?

It almost beggars belief they have gone from gold rich rock to barren rock within such a short period.

Surely the exchange should be looking at this?

Companies on our Watchlist making news this week.

Mining Review 5th March 2023

US interest rate rise expectations failed to suppress the price of gold, but many miners are back down.

Argosy Minerals delivered a positive production update at their Rincon Lithium Project, and Rumble Resources reported excellent drill results.

City Investors Circle Mining Review 5th March 2023

The price of gold defied US interest rate speculation to end the week healthily in the blue, but industrial metals had a torrid week.

News from China seems to cause the market to flip flop from positive to negative on an almost weekly basis, and this was a negative week. With inflation running rampant a recession looks a bolt on certainty at some point, but it takes time to get going as expenditure slows.

Turning to our watchlist companies, this was a quiet week for news, unusually so given that PDAC starts today.

Argosy Minerals delivered a positive production update at their Rincon Lithium Project, located in Salta, Argentina. They are almost 100% commissioned now and they seem to have executed well.

Rumble Resources reported excellent drill results from the latest round of high-grade Zn-Pb RC drilling results from the Tonka Prospect, plus the delineation of multiple new gravity low targets which potentially may represent new high-grade feeder faults within the 11km Tonka-Navajoh mineralised footprint and over 9km of drill untested strike southeast of Tonka-Navajoh deposit

Gold fell back again for the third week on the trot.

I-80 Gold, Lefroy Exploration, and Orla Mining made positive news this week.

The informality of the 121 Mining Forum in Cape Town.

Mining Review 12th February 2023

City Investors Circle Mining Review 12th February

Gold fell back again for the third week on the trot, in a generally poor week for both the precious and industrial metals.

Silver, palladium, and platinum are all falling heavily, continuing a poor run over the last month.

Other heavy fallers are thermal coal, down 20% in a week and over 42% in a month, and cobalt, 6.72% in a week and 20.8% in a month.

I attended Indaba and the 121 Mining Forum in Cape Town, which is always a pleasure to attend due to its informality, imposed by the lovely weather, only the brave wear ties after the first hour or so!

Indaba was a formal mining trade show in an air conditioned building, with fortress style security outside ensuring the safety of those within. There were very few junior mining companies inside, but I didn't stay long as there was little of interest to an investor.

I found one from the UK I was not even aware of, listed in London and actually mining gold in Nigeria! Thor Explorations (poor name for a producer) are in fact Nigeria's only producing gold mine. Prima Facie it looks like a good company but clearly they aren't promoting themselves yet.

Companies on our watchlist making news this week

I-80 Gold, Lefroy Exploration, and Orla Mining made positive news this week, in a curtailed week due to my conference attendance in Cape Town.

i-80 Gold announced a $50 million debenture raise, now increased to $65 million, and then released some good drill results.

Mining Review 29th January 2023

Gold and copper had a good week, and tin had an exceptional week, as the markets became more positive about the Chinese economy.

Ascot Resources, Cartier Resources, Karora Resources, and Westhaven Gold all announced good drill results.

City Investors Circle Mining Review 29th January 2023

Gold and copper had a good week, tin had an exceptional week.

Gold is holding up well despite higher interest rates, but may possibly have topped out for now.

The renewed optimism in China, and protests in Peru, are driving the copper and iron ore prices. Warehouse stocks of some key metals are lower than they would normally be, suggesting a squeeze may occur at some point driving prices much higher.

In Peru, the world's second largest copper producer, 30% of copper production is currently off line due to protests.

Mining Review 26th December 2022

The talking point of the week was the order by the Panamanian government to First Quantum Minerals to stop mining at their Cobre Panama giant copper mine, as the two sides cannot agree a new mining agreement.

They have agreed a new tax rate increasing by around $350 million the payments to the Panamanian government, but First Quantum want a scaled approach depending upon the price of copper, and this is the crux of the problem.

It's beer and popcorn time as the mine provides 3.5% of Panama's GDP, and First Quantum have invested billions in the project, so an agreement will have to be made, let's see who blinks first.

Turning to those stocks we follow on our watchlist, i-80 Gold and Rokmaster Resources both announced good gold discoveries, and Cyprium Metals announced an offtake prepayment facility of their Nifty Copper project.

Colonial Coal had to reassure the market after a triple whammy of tax loss selling, the Tech deal with Conuma, and the Glencore B.C. authorities' project rejection all weighed heavily on CAD's shareprice.

Panama was the focus of the mining world this week as the government of that Central American country withdrew the mining licence for the El Cobre copper mine after failing to come to an agreement with owner First Quantum Minerals.

Mining Review 18th December 2022

Panama was the focus of the mining world this week as the government of that Central American country withdrew the mining licence for the El Cobre copper mine after failing to come to an agreement with owner First Quantum, see here.

This row has been rumbling on all year, and reached the government imposed deadline of midnight December 14th without agreement. Talks even continues through until the following morning, but to no avail.

The Panamanian President informed the country with a TV address, so it does seem that he is standing firm, for now at least. The ramifications are the Panamanians lose one of their major tax contributors, and First quantum will lose a major copper mine.

The words "international arbitration" are not being used yet, so I suspect after some belligerence on both sides, they will come together, and a deal will be reached.

Companies we follow that made news last week

Ascot Resources, Calidus Resources, Cornish Metals, and Maple Gold Mines all made news this week.

The most significant was that Ascot Resources have fully funded the construction of their Premier Mine, located in the Golden Triangle of British Columbia. This removes the uncertainty created when Sprott Finance pulled out, leaving the project in limbo during a falling mining sector and finance harder to raise as a result.

Calidus Resources gave an upbeat update on their problems, but the market wasn't impressed as the stock has fallen since. They are working through their teething problems with mining specialists, but I guess the market wants to see the proof in the numbers, rather than words.

Maple Gold Mines reported some good gold intercepts from shallow depth at their Eagle Mine, located in Quebec.

A momentous week for mining in the UK this week as the government approved the UK's first new coal mine for 30 years, in Cumbria.

Ascot Resources, Barkerville Gold, Neometals, Rumble Resources, and Wesdome Gold Mines made news this week.

Mines and Money London 2022

City Investors Circle Mining Review 11th December 2022

A momentous week for mining in the UK this week as the government approved the UK's first new coal mine for 30 years, in Cumbria, see here

This is a brave decision because of the opposition of the green lobby, who naturally oppose anything to do with coal, despite the country having to import steel making coal as we don't currently produce any! And in order to import coal, ships which are powered by fossil fuels have to bring it from other countries!

I see the Labour Party are opposing the decision (no surprises there of course), despite them claiming to be on the side of employment, and a reduction in greenhouse gases.

They don't seem to realise that in order to make steel in the UK we need coking coal, so either we produce it, or have to import it from somewhere else, and the ships that deliver it burn fossil fuels in the process. It's clearly greener to mine it here than import it.

Glencore announced this week they were scrapping the planned new coking and thermal coal mine in Queensland, Australia, citing "global uncertainties and state subsidies" as the reasons for doing so.

They are also winding down their other producing coal mines, by around 2045! Not exactly in a hurry then, and of course the world needs coking coal to keep producing steel, otherwise the world's industry grinds to a halt.

Stocks we follow in the news this week.

Ascot Resources, Barkerville Gold, Neometals, Rumble Resources, and Wesdome Gold Mines made news this week.

Ascot Resources announced an excellent drill hole, albeit only over 1 metre, at their Big Missouri project in the Golden Triangle of British Columbia. Whilst good drill holes are excellent news, the elephant in the room is the delay to the financing for their Premier Mine restart, after Spratt withdrew their finance offer.

I feel Ascot are just waiting for a buyer now, and if that occurs in the current market I fear it will be a paper deal done at a very small premium.

Rumble Resources also released good drill results, in an otherwise quiet week for them as Xmas approaches.

Precious metals trod water this week as the US dollar stood firm.

The first of the large London mining conferences seemed quieter than normal, maybe investor interest in the sector has fallen?

Primobius Werkstatt
Hilchenbach Plant, Germany

Mining Review 27th November 2022

Precious metals trod water this week as the US dollar.

The first of the large London mining conferences seemed quieter than normal, maybe after 18 months of falling share and commodity prices investor interest in the sector has fallen?

Almost certainly it has, bitcoin and crypto took over from the cannabis sector, and people get excited when they're making money, and turned off when they start losing it. So it's been a tough time for the stoic mining investor, and it's clear that interest is not what it was.

I see the current state as an opportunity though, undervaluations based on normal market parameters abound, and surely if we haven't reached the bottom yet we are within touching distance?

I'm looking at making some new investments in the coming weeks in anticipation of what I think will be a potential turning point for the mining sector, surely value investors will arrive soon, perhaps as other sectors turn down due to the economic problems ahead?

I'm prepared to believe positions taken now in well financed companies have a good chance of becoming positive in the medium term.

City Investors Circle – Mining Review 9th October 2022

A better week for gold despite US bond yields still going up, and the yield curve remains inverted, although it slimmed down a tad.

Another mixed week in the markets, the US DOW is oscillating around the 30,000 mark, and the mining sector had a better week as the price of gold stabilised above $1700.

A major deal was announced this week, the merger of Solgold (AIM: SLG) and TSX listed Cornerstone Capital. Cornerstone hold a significant position in Solgold shares, and hold other licence areas in the immediate vicinity of Cascabel, so this deals looks sensible to me.

Rest In Peace Ma'am

Mining Review 11th Sep. 2022

The world mourned the loss of Queen Elizabeth 2, due to her sad death after 70 years of loyal service to the UK and Commonwealth of nations.

This was the week that the market finally accepted the September rate hike will be hawkish, took it in its stride, and gold, metals, bonds crypto, and equities rode up whilst the dollar fell slightly.

Yes this was the week the tide turned and the inevitable interest rate rise of probably .75% resulted in the dollar falling and everything else that would normally fall going up!

The yield curve, a usually reliable recession warning indicator, inverted more, not a good sign.

Companies on our watchlist reporting news last week;

Nothing of any great significance reported this week, Orla Mining and Wesdome Gold rose strongly.

We started to follow ASX listed Pacgold (PGO), and they immediately brought out some “spectacular” drill results which sent the stock 20% higher.

Pacgold is an early stage gold exploration company based in North Queensland, Australia, and has an experienced management team.

Companies from our watchlist in the news this week

Cornish Metals and Kootenay Silver reported good drill results in an otherwise quiet week.

Karora Resources is pressure after recent poor results, and if not already in bargain basement territory must surely be close? Karora is down 62% from a high of C$7.45, which admittedly was looking a bit frothy, but now it looks like the complete opposite.

Wesdome is out of favour too, again for poor performance, although it posted a recovery on Friday.

City Investors Circle Mining Review

FED Chairman Jerome Powell delivered a hawkish speech at Jackson Hole, favouring containing inflation over the state of the economy and markets.

This drove the Dow down 1,000 points and caused gold to slump, taking down miners and indices.

Mining Review Sunday Update – Powell’s Hawkish Tone Crashes Markets

City Investors Circle

FED Chairman Jerome Powell delivered a hawkish speech at Jackson Hole, favouring containing inflation over the state of the economy and markets.

Leading up to the speech I thought I detected a more cautious tone, and had expected him to deliver something that would have given investors and the markets hope that rate increases would soon be done and the pivot could reasonably be expected as inflation subsided.

Sadly he delivered something far worse, with his focus firmly on subduing inflation regardless of whether it causes a recession or not. The markets responded to that accordingly, and we had a massacre up until the close.

This drove the Dow down 1,000 points and caused gold to slump, taking down miners and the ETF indices by several percentage points.

Zach Hill, Head of Portfolio Management at Horizon Investments stated;

“We do believe the Fed when they say that rates are going to be higher for longer and we’ve seen some repricing of the cuts in 2023.

“We think there’s more to go on that front and it’s likely to continue to fuel equity volatility from here.”

A sombre finish to the week as we head into a Bank Holiday weekend in the UK.

Turning to the mining companies we follow,

There was some good announcements made during the last week, all lost in the market maelstrom on Friday, sadly.

Good news is more often than not simply creating liquidity events enabling selling in these markets.

Cabral Gold were the most active, reporting the results of two drill campaigns their Cuiu Cuiu project in Para State, Brazil. Alan Carter continues to deliver the exploration news on a regular basis.

Minera Alamos reported a record month of gold production, which has been constrained due to drought conditions limiting their water supply, but the company is still not ready to declare commercial production.

Another poor week for gold as the US dollar (DXY) climbed higher, reaching 108.

Companies making news this week included American Creek, Cartier Resources, Karora Resources, Maple Gold, Rokmaster, and Uranium Energy Corp.

Ascot Resources – Big Missouri portal

Mining Review Sunday Update 21st August 2022

Another poor week for gold as the US dollar (DXY) climbed higher, reaching 108, a recent high.

The rise in the dollar is being assisted with so called “good news” being released about the state of the US economy, and the ridiculous denial that is is already in recession after two quarters of negative growth, the traditional definition.

This of course was negative for gold, silver, and other metal prices.

Industrial metals are declining due to low growth fears in the Chinese economy, and once again reports of brutal lockdowns of whole cities for a few covid cases.

Chile continues to make the news for the wrong reasons, this time in connection with a large 36m sinkhole that has appeared at the edge of the Alcaparrosa copper mine, owned by Lundin (80%) and Sumitomo (20%), in the Atacama region.

Immediately a determination seems to have been made that the company is to blame for “overexploitation”, and “severe penalties” are being threatened. Lundin are investigating the cause.

Companies making news this week included American Creek, Cartier Resources, Karora Resources, Maple Gold, Rokmaster, and Uranium Energy Corp.

Karora Resources has bounced back after some disappointing recent financials, despite record production, with a high grade course gold discovery at its Beta Hunt Mine, in WA.

The other piece of noteworthy news was that UEC and UEX Corp. came to an agreement regarding the terms of the proposed takeover of the latter, after the intervention of Dennison Mines had threatened to scupper the deal.
